

RE:

RANDOM BLENDS 2018

5 - 6 APRIL

9 AM - 8 PM

NUS UNIVERSITY TOWN
STEPHEN RIADY CENTRE

ABOUT US

RE: is a mash-up of the prefix ‘re’, commonly used in the environmental slogan “reduce, reuse and recycle” and the email preposition ‘Re:’ that denotes a reply. Through the showcase of innovative student works from the department of Communications & New Media, RE: explores our relationships and responses to the environments we inhabit.

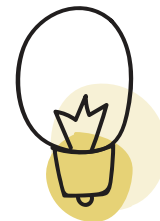

RE: seeks to evoke thoughts, feelings and hopes about:

Environmental Sustainability

Social Issues

Technological Innovation

HIGHLIGHTS

Redefining A Book Swap

5th April | After Books & Beer Talk

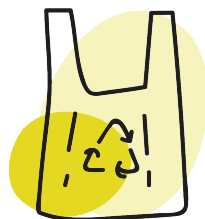

Come together with other book lovers to exchange the books that you love and authors you enjoy. All you need is a book or two, a good mood and an open mind!

Make-Your-Own Terrarium Workshop

5th & 6th April | 1100 / 1500

Reconnect with nature by building your own terrarium. Using recycled materials and your creativity, you don't need a green thumb to attempt this simple work of art!

Sale of BYO Merchandise

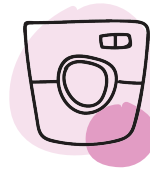

5th & 6th April | While stocks last

The Sustainability Project will be selling a range of high quality and affordable products to bring you one step closer to a Bring-Your-Own (BYO) lifestyle!
